England and France no longer guarantee any protection for Belgium in case of war, on the new King, Leopold, says all alliances are off, with France, England and everybody else.

France is said to be violently agitated. England, Italy, is agitated by the Belgian King's announcement. It is called a "victory for Hitler."

Perhaps it is not important. If Germany should turn her forces toward France and England again she would not come crawling over Belgium soil, with soldiers saying, "This is five days." But, and any other engaged in modern war, would come flying, regardless of frontiers, and it would be "Berlin to Paris in five hours," or "over there, not five days." Frontiers mean little now, since there are none in the air.

At a gathering of motion picture engineers in Rochester, N. Y., last Wednesday, Martin H. Aylesworth talked about moving pictures and theaters in a fashion worthy of his original name, "Martin the Wizard."

The motion picture industry, now run extravagantly, said, by exclamation, he made as efficient as any other industry, and that, said Mr. Aylesworth, without any reduction in the salaries of producers, directors, actors, or any kind of labor or manpower.

And nobody need worry about television or radio interfering with the prosperity of motion picture theaters.

Mr. Aylesworth says: "I have always believed that radio helps motion pictures and the theater, and that, and motion pictures help the radio."

Every good thing helps every other good thing. Motion picture theaters will increase in prosperity and attendance because human beings like to see things together.

Any father who has installed a billiard table in his house "to keep the boys at home" can tell you that the boys still go out to play billiards, where others are playing.

No two-wheeled television picture will keep the boys away from the billiard table. The beautiful piling and occasional "personal appearance" of the moving picture house, for man is a gregarious animal, enjoying himself in crowds.

One piece of good news. In 1936, the number of motor vehicles registered in New York state, alone, increased by 124,000 to a magnificent total for the state of 2,414,111. Those automobiles could carry the total population of New York state all at one time, with plenty of room for luggage, and bedding on the running board, if it should become necessary for the population to move West to escape airplanes, all that they could escape.

The 23,000,000 automobiles now running in the United States could carry our total population of 130,000,000 at one time. That is real transportation. The big automobile shows are approaching, and you know how much higher the automobile registrations will go. A hypothesis as good as a fact, except that he has not heard. Don't be a hypochondriac, but...

'Wally' Must Tell All in Her Trial

Mrs. Ernest "Wally" Simpson

KING'S FRIEND TO TESTIFY ON MATE'S "INFIDELITY"

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, Oct. 16—Ernest Simpson will not be among the 300-odd persons who will crowd into the little Jewish courtroom towards the end of this month when Mrs. "Wally" Simpson, frequent guest of King Edward, wins a two-minute divorce, friends said today.

Mrs. Simpson, however, will have to testify to her husband's alleged infidelity.

The case then goes into the hands of an assessor of the King, himself—His Majesty's procurator general—who will keep tabs on the conduct of the divorce proceedings during the period before the divorce becomes final.

The white-haired, graying judge will determine the length of time between the granting of a divorce nisi—divorce "unless"—and the final decree, which becomes almost automatic in the event, an extraordinary cause the procurator to intervene.

The interim period between the first decree and the absolute decree is usually six months, but may be as short as three months. England, so far as the press and other public means of news circulation were concerned, still remained in ignorance of the Simpson suit today, although there was no indication that persons had been brought from "high places" to defend the suit, there would be no need for him to be present. Contrary to first belief, however, there will be no court order.

Paris, Oct. 16 (Jewish Telegraph Agency)—Execution of six Jewish notables by Spanish Fascist firing squads was reported today from Guernica, Spain, by L'Ouvrier, radical daily.

The correspondent asserted Alvarez was involved in the execution of his wife before facing the Fascist rifle. A Swedish was alleged to have been carved on his face with a knife.

The men reported executed were said to have been among 13 Jewish notables arrested by the Spanish insurgents.

Paris Protests Scrapping Of Belgian Pacts
By ARNO BOSCH-FLEUROT
Paris, Oct. 16 (U.S.)—France was drafting the stiffest sort of protest today to overrule Belgium's withdrawal into a state of armed neutrality and her virtual snapping of the long-standing Franco-Belgian military alliance.

Although the French foreign office has not been notified directly of King Leopold's unexpected decision, it was unofficially admitted that France held the news with "extreme anxiety" and did not intend to stand idly by while her world-wide scheme of security was smashed to bits.

France will send a diplomatic letter to Belgium asking her for a definite statement of her conception of neutrality.

She will also be asked what her new policy will have on the obligations and what effect her action will have on the relations of the two general staffs.

CHelsea CLAIM TO BE GIVEN TO BOARD

Further evidence of alleged fraudulent registrations in Ward 21, Alston, will be turned over to the Boston election commissioners tomorrow, according to an announcement today by Attorney Theodore P. Hollis, representing the Republican state committee.

Hollis said that he and other lawyers, representing the committee, have information indicating that 250 persons are registered in Chelsea and in Ward 21, Alston. The names, ages and occupations of these 250 persons are identical in the two cases, it was declared.

NEW COMPLAINTS
On election day checkers will be supplied with a list of these names at each precinct polling place in the Alston ward.

Fifteen additional complaints of cases where persons who do not exist are allegedly registered in Ward 21 will be turned over to the election commissioners at the same time, it was learned. Thirty such complaints were handed to the commissioners yesterday.

Investigators have uncovered evidence of 20,000 fraudulent registrations in the state, according to Republican leaders last night. There are said to be thousands of instances where persons are registered in more than one city or town.

HEARING ON MONDAY
Hearings will be asked for on all the complaints and the first hearings, on complaints already filed, will take place Monday.

Under election laws, the board may strike from the voting lists the names of any persons regarding whom there is evidence of registration in more than one city or town.

Roosevelt Expects Defeat, Says Colby

Special to American Newspaper, Inc.

New York, Oct. 16.—Calling on the Democratic Party to realize that its present leadership is false, Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State under President Wilson, last night launched a scathing attack on the campaign tactics of President Roosevelt.

Speaking over a nationwide radio book-up, under the sponsorship of the National Jeffersonian Democrats, Mr. Colby declared the active campaign being waged by the President was a confession of anticipated defeat.

LANDON TO DASH OUT TO PACIFIC FOR ADDRESS

lands, cities along with some in New York State.

Landon will spend two days in New York City. On the night of the second day, October 20, he will deliver a major address in Madison Square Garden.

Mr. Landon, New York City and St. Louis speeches will be broadcast on national radio hook-ups. All others will be broadcast live, but possibly on lesser radio circuits.

Republican chairmen, who accompanied Landon on his tour through Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana were jubilant over his decision to visit California. They applauded his political courage in making the trip to a state that the New Deal has been claiming ever since the campaign started.

The governor's decision was reached after receipt of reports of surveys being taken in California that show a distinct swing in the last two weeks to the Landon banner. The outlook was reported as favorable that Landon predicted victory there.

CHALLENGES ROOSEVELT
The Republican chairman gave evidence in his final speech of the trip that he proposes to continue his fighting campaign, the President directly to the President.

At that speech at Danville, Ill., he took off his electoral gloves and charged the President with being aided by men who seek to change our form of government. He also challenged Roosevelt's claim that the New Deal aided in business recovery. He declared:

"What recovery we have had has come since the Supreme Court gave the country a real breathing spell from the President's 'Must' legislation."

He declared the President's policies had "kept twenty millions on relief rolls and eleven millions in the mire of unemployment."

He charged the President with "giving lip service to the system of free enterprise" while New Deal leaders were bent on "making of Congress merely a body to ratify the arbitrary actions of a one-man super government."

'LET HIM RECAPITULATE'
"If Mr. Roosevelt is sincere in his desire to preserve and defend the Constitution of the United States, let him in no uncertain terms repudiate those who speak for his administration," said Landon.

"Let him also repudiate his 'horse and buggy' interview in which he prophesied disaster if industry was permitted to remain free from coercive interference and the farmer is once more made 'lord of his own farm.'"

"We have every reason to believe that in his heart he longs for a planned economy. In that he rendered lip service to the merit system, but on election placed his head spokesman in charge of the biggest federal grab-bag in history. He is still rendering this lip service and the politicians still parcel out the jobs."

"It is for these reasons that I believe the American people are entitled to a frank and non-evasive answer."

What Landon Stands For: American Ideals

Governor Landon believes America can remain at peace with the whole world by MINDING ITS OWN BUSINESS.

He is familiar with recent American history, and he knows that most of the international crises that have affected us have been caused by THE MEDDLING OF OUR OWN GOVERNMENT.

Governor Landon will keep America's hands out of the affairs of other countries.

He will DEMAND that other nations KEEP THEIR HANDS OUT OF OUR AFFAIRS.

He regards the Communist doctrine and radical schemes that have crept into American life under the New Deal as IMPORTATIONS FROM ALIEN LANDS.

He says these ALIEN CREEDS in their true light, as POTENTIAL DESTROYERS of American ideals.

The most sacred trust he will accept as President will be the PRESERVATION of the American system of government, of constitutional authority and of the integrity of the country.

These are the American ideals threatened by Communism.

TO GOVERNOR LANDON they are the FOUNDATIONS of the liberty of security and of our conception of equality of opportunity.

He will DEFEND them with the full power of the Presidential authority, and the UNITED SUPPORT of the American people.

Landon Far Ahead In Digest Poll

New York, Oct. 16.—For the seventh consecutive week, results from the tabulation of ballots in the Literary Digest presidential poll, made public today, show Governor Landon far in the lead, both in popular vote and in Electoral College.

Of a total of 1,811,480 ballots counted, Landon has 1,004,086 and Roosevelt, 728,088. By states, Landon leads 32 to 18. By electoral votes, Landon has 366, or 120 more than enough to elect.

For the first time since the Digest figures were first published, Landon in the larger cities is included in the total as given by states. The result has been to reduce slightly his lead from the Republican candidate, but nowhere has the state-wide result been changed.

EVEN CITY VOTE
Addition of balloting results in Greater New York strongly Democratic, has been offset completely in New York state by New returns from the up-state section.

The same general result has followed in Pennsylvania, where the Democrats have counted heavily on their votes in Pittsburgh to cut the Landon lead in that state.

The huge vote being rolled up in the presidential poll by Governor Landon shows the Republican candidate doing better than expected for support. Either that, or normally Republican voters who deserted their party in 1932 are returning to the ranks.

The Digest poll shows Governor Landon to be favored by 194,559 persons who voted the Democratic ticket four years ago, as against 196,506 persons who voted the Republican ticket in 1932 and who are now going to vote for the Democratic standard bearer.

Interest in the possibilities of Representative Lemke, heading the third party ticket, influencing the outcome of the election, makes an analysis of his poll vote important.

LEMKE VOTE
Out of a total of 61,983 votes recorded for Lemke, 40,707 have been pulled from the Democratic ranks and 1,600 from the Republicans. The Lemke strength, as revealed by the poll, is strongest in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Minnesota, California and Wisconsin.

In each of those states there is a possibility the third party ticket will be found, the day after election, to have played an all-important part in the final outcome.

Challenging Democrats' urban strength for President Roosevelt, incomplete returns in the Digest presidential poll show Governor Landon continuing to lead in the majority of cities.

Returns from ten more scattered municipalities, made public today, place Governor Landon in front in six of the ten.

ROOSEVELT'S TWO DRIVE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Cincinnati, Oct. 16.—In a driving rain President Roosevelt initiated his Ohio campaign here today with praise of the federal work relief program.

Despite the weather, thousands of Cincinnati residents, including delegates from nearby Indiana and Kentucky, lined streets on a half hour drive from Union Terminal to the Nippert Stadium of the University of Cincinnati, where Mr. Roosevelt spoke.

The gist of the speech, in part was that of a Works Progress Administration project, the enlargement of the stadium, which was partly filled with a crowd of some 10,000 persons under umbrellas and attired in all-weather.

The federal government inaugurated the work relief program to put people to work because it was necessary to bring business down and it has been successful, the President declared. It has saved people from being hungry, he said, and at the same time has maintained their self-respect.

"WE WANT LANDON"
As the presidential motorcade rolled into the stadium enclosure, a group of students wearing sunflowers, segregated in one section of the stands.

"We want Landon, we want Landon," they chanted.

It was the first "ruse" the President has met with on his trip and he hopes to win the state, said Mrs. Roosevelt.

She thought, Mr. Roosevelt said, that the federal government should simply prevent people from starving by the government, more and it has been successful, the President declared. It has saved people from being hungry, he said, and at the same time has maintained their self-respect.

Today's literary took him from the Ohio River to the Ohio river, and then from the river back to the lake.

Starting at 10:30 a. m. and finishing at Cleveland, with stops at half hour intervals along the way, in Springfield, Middletown, Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and Galena.

Arriving at Galena, Ohio, the President was met by a large crowd on being the mother of president's first child, and a large crowd of people in his presidential preference.

REPUBLICAN HOPES
Reinforced this year for a strong state ticket, the Republicans have had hopes of reversing the relatively slim Roosevelt majority of 1932. Gov. Landon has worked hard on the state.

The President invoked Ohio after a hard campaign in Michigan, which brought gratifying evidence of support in half a dozen of the state's cities.

Grand Rapids to Detroit. As the first Democratic candidate in many years to travel the state, outside Detroit, Mr. Roosevelt was met with a warm and gratified as the tremendous outpouring of people to his camp.

Governor Landon had just preceded him along much the same route and also was greeted by large crowds. Impartial state police, who patrolled both campaigns on their tours, said the Roosevelt crowds were larger.

But experienced political observers here ceased to attach much importance to the relative size of crowds in a campaign since the days of Bryan, and later of Al Smith.

HIS VITAL ISSUE
Mr. Roosevelt's bid for Michigan, culminated in Detroit last night. For sheer numbers and enthusiasm Detroit put on a political show that rivaled that of Chicago the night before.

Before thousands of thousands of people lined the streets and packed city hall plaza and the state with this confident challenge.

"When the smoke and dust of this political campaign clear away on the night of November third, history will record that the outstanding issue of this campaign was this:

"Should the social and economic security and betterment of the masses of the American people be maintained and strengthened or not?"

An answering roar of applause and cheers from the many thousands packed the audience in the spacious plaza almost drowned out his answer to the question.

"I am not afraid of the verdict. It will be 'yes.'"

One of his dinner guests aboard the presidential special was Senator James Chapman, who demonstrated his own political independence by declaring for Mr. Roosevelt while running for re-nomination in the Republican primary and went down to defeat as a result.

Another of his guests was Bishop Gallagher, the archbishop of St. Paul, who declared for Mr. Roosevelt while running for re-nomination in the Republican primary and went down to defeat as a result.

ANTI-DEAL DEMS IN RALLY

By BERNARD J. DOHERTY

Plans for a big rally, with nationally known Democrats who have "taken a walk" from the Roosevelt New Deal, at speakers are being completed by former State Auditor Francis X. Hurley, of Cambridge, manager of the New England Division of the National Jeffersonian Democrats.

Former Senator James A. East of Missouri, head of the Jeffersonians, it is understood, will be principal speaker.

Former Senator Paul, with former Governor Joseph B. Ely, campaigned in the second Maine election and contributed to the sweeping regulation given the Maine administration by the voters of that state.

Since that time Ely, former Governor "Al" Smith of New York, Fairbridge Colby, secretary of state under President Wilson, and a host of other Democrats who have put principle before party have been delivering telling blows throughout the country.

Since the opening of the Jeffersonian headquarters on Franklin street, former State Auditor Hurley reports, the number of Democrats who have signed their intention of voting the Republican ticket in the November 3 election continues to mount, and the effect of the party through the elimination of the present leadership.

Working independently of this strictly Democratic organization, the newly formed "London Volunteers" adjutant of the London For President Club of Massachusetts, in attendance, a large block of independent and Democratic women members.

Miss Florence Birmingham of Braintree, sister of the late Representative Leo M. Birmingham, for many years Democratic leader in the House of Representatives, is vice-chairman of this auxiliary. She has taken to the stump, rallying about her hundreds of women whose cause for recognition for their claims for recognition under the New Deal were ignored.

Next Saturday, at a rally in Webster, Clarence P. Oakes of New York, well known globe-trotter, and a close student of first hand of Soviet Russia and Communism, as well as of the international political situation, will be among the speakers.

Guests include originally from Kansas. For more than 25 years he lived four doors away from the home of Governor Alfred M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate. He helped from the Young Republican Club of Kansas and was the first chairman of the speaker's bureau in Landon's home county.

Democratic chairlady in Massachusetts are looking forward anxiously to the visit to this state next Wednesday of President Roosevelt in the hope that their begged down campaign here will get a new lease of life.

Practical efforts to induce former District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien, Union party candidate for vice-presidential and senator to quit the contest have got nowhere.

DUPONTS HIT BACK

Say Roosevelt Violated Pledges

Special to American Newspapers.

New York, Oct. 15.—Continuing Democratic charges they gave $300,000 to the Republican campaign up to September 30, Landon and Pierre S. du Pont today called on other Republicans and true Democrats to help elect Governor Landon in any way they can.

Pierre S. du Pont, pointing out he supported President Roosevelt in 1932, asserted he had been forced to abandon "all advances to a program, since administration, administration and security of the port by now denied is the principle of the Constitution. He accused President Roosevelt of having violated both his campaign promises and the platform of four years ago, and urged: "I join, and recommend others to join, in support of the Republican candidate with word and by contributions made within the law and only reported."

Publisher of the du Pont gift by the Democrats was termed "aided Langer" and "virtue" as a statement today by Robert H. Williams and secretary of the

AUTO MEN DENY DEAL AID

Detroit, Oct. 16 (DNR)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt's claim in a speech here that his administration was responsible for recovery in the automobile industry was vigorously disputed today by prominent automotive leaders.

Alvan Macauley, president of the Packard Motor Car Company and regarded as a spokesman for the industry because he heads the Automobile Manufacturers Association, replied to the President's statement that "many dollars spent for relief have finally come into Detroit in the purchase of automobiles" by asserting:

"The automobile industry has weathered every depression without the aid of government monies."

"We can take credit for our own comeback. In other depressions we came through financially."

By sound without the help of artificial stimulus. I cannot see how we have derived any direct benefit from the spending policies of the Roosevelt administration."

Henry Campbell, secretary of the Board of Commerce, which is closely aligned with all automobile plants here, declared "President Roosevelt's statements are ridiculous."

Townsendite Groups

Endorse Lodge, Treadway

By L. CONANT JR.

Westfield, Oct. 15.—Definite indication of the strong Republican tide in the state Townsendite ranks came today with the endorsement of Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Republican nominee for senator, and Congressman Allan C. Treadway, party candidate for reelection from the First District, by the First District Townsendite Committee.

Further important announcements by Townsendite officials were believed to be imminent.

Republicans were given added encouragement on their "victory swing" of the western part of the state by the great response accorded Lodge at a non-party rally before General Electric workers in Westfield.

DEDS. NOT WORDS

There, at meetings in Westfield, Holyoke and Chicopee, the Republican senatorial candidate stressed his record as chairman of the House committee on labor and industries.

"I have been traveling through western Massachusetts," he said, "telling of the constructive proposals for which I stand and which should help to bring back the day of the good job."

"Among the many humanitarian measures which the committee on labor and industries reported, while I was chairman, was the bill further extending the six-hour law in industry and the bill to pay injured workmen during the total period of their incapacity."

"I have also stated that I did not vote for a balanced budget for the simple reason that I have great regard for the taxpayers."

"It is well said that all governments are often weak on the rocks of a loose fiscal policy."

DECENT WAGES

"Those count more than words today. If glowing promises and hundred words and catchy slogans could be eaten, we would long ago have been in the land of milk and honey."

Vividly jubilant over the enthusiastic demonstrations which greeted him in this section of the state, John W. Haigis, Republican gubernatorial nominee, likewise turned his attention to the laboring vote with a promise of "real work at decent wages."

Appealing directly to WPA workers, he declared he realized that they were "unhappy with that sort of work which gave them only enough to provide the necessities of life."

"I know many of you here are either on the WPA or have friends on it," he said.

"Now I will admit that had I been in charge of establishing such a works program, I would have differed in many ways from the present system."

"But I wish to give credit to the men behind the WPA for the effort and intention behind it."

"My first thought as governor will be to the problem of returning you to industrial employment at decent wages."

"I give you my word that I will encourage a revival of industry in this state so that this will be done."

"But it can only be accomplished by returning honest, decent government to Massachusetts through the election of the Republican ticket."

BREWSTER ON HAND

The victorious Maine atmosphere to the western swing was reinforced with the appearance of Congressman Ralph G. Brewster of the Third District, who defeated his New Deal opponent for reelection by a smashing majority.

DIXIE SENATORS HERE TO HELP DEMOCRATS

By WILLIAM C. CONWAY

The United States has never so far as Massachusetts is concerned been so united in its support of the Democratic cause as it is today.

Senator Allen W. Bailey of Kentucky and Senator Joseph R. Burton of Georgia have been elected to the state in aid of the Democratic cause.

Senator Burton, who was the keynote at the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia, was elected to the state in aid of the Democratic cause.

Senator Bailey, an ardent New Dealer, was elected to the state in aid of the Democratic cause.

Spanish Rebels Execute 6 Jews; Belgian Action Hit

Madrid, Oct. 15 (AP)—Six Jews were executed today by Spanish rebels in the city of Madrid.

These informants are compelled to stand, shivering in the cold and rain, in front of the barbed-wire entanglements, making it difficult for General Franco's troops to launch an attack and lift the siege, the report stated.

Barbed Wire Defenses
Strung About Madrid
Madrid, Oct. 15 (AP)—Belgian soldiers drafted large forces of peasants today to construct barbed wire defenses against a potential insurgent offensive west of Madrid.

In the area between Brunete and Villavieja del Odo, within 20 miles of the capital, the peasant squads labored feverishly to string the barbed wire across the path of the advancing Francoists.

Infant Suffocates

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Richard B. Borden, eight-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. August Borden, was found today by a neighbor suffocated in his home. His parents were at work.

Insurgents in Battle
20 Miles From Madrid
Madrid, Oct. 15 (AP)—Insurgents drove through rain-sodden terrain advanced their western battlefront 20 miles today, capturing five mountain villages and besieging Brunete within 20 miles of Madrid.

Along the entire western line, the Francoists mounted a paralyzing attack as insurgent patrols pierced deep into government territory.

Headlines of Franco newspapers reported capture of the towns of Madrid, Cuernavaca, Narva de Pisuerga, Valdemorillo and Alcala de Henares.

Reeds Reported Using Guns as Trench Shields
Madrid, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Reds were reported today to be using reeds as trench shields in the battle for Madrid.

REBEL TROOPS LIFT SIEGE OF 2ND ALCAZAR

By THOMAS A. LOATZ

Madrid, Oct. 15 (AP)—Rebel troops lifted the siege of the 2nd Alcazar today by a rebel rescue column that has fought its way to the northern city through enemy territory for two months.

General Francisco De Liano announced today in a broadcast from Seville.

The Loyalist government here denied the report, saying Austrian miners controlled all Oviedo except the cathedral, where the besieged rebels took their last refuge; while the rescue troops were beaten back from the city's suburbs.

General De Liano said the rebel column of Colonel Manuel Alonso had reached the Oviedo Cathedral, where they were "triumphantly received" by the insurgents, and a battle was now going on to drive the Asturians from the city.

General De Liano said that 20,000 children are now trapped in the streets of Madrid, where all schools are closed. Their parents are at the front lines, or have fled from the city, he said.

An earlier announcement from the rebel column said 20 airplanes had bombed Madrid, hitting the army barracks.

25 Dead, 400 Hurt
In Bombay Riots
Bombay, Oct. 15 (AP)—Police fired into two mobs today in a weekend communal rioting in which 25 persons were killed and 400 injured.

Dozens of pedestrians were wounded, street cars were stopped and business houses shut down.

3 Bandits Get $10,250 Payroll

John Fitzhugh, his guard, taken by surprise, followed Weinstein inside.

The gunman simply snatched the bag up off the ground and leaping into their car, vanished along a back road toward East Rochester.

There were a number of witnesses on the sidewalk nearby and one took down the registration number of the machine. It was a Main car.

Police and deputies in automobiles raced after the fleeing bandits and the alarm was flashed to police at other New Hampshire communities, and to Maine and New Hampshire state police, to watch all main highways.

Whitman got into his automobile and also gave chase to the bandits.

Empty cartridge shells found on the ground showed that the robbers fired from a 45 automatic pistol, army type.

The payroll men had just come from the bank at 115, when they were waylaid. The money they carried represented the pay of 400 factory employees.

Police believe the bandit gang were dashing toward the Maine line, which is only a few miles distant.

Sen. Austin's Report

Dissects Arabian
'Case' in Palestine

This is the fifth of a series of articles by Senator Warren R. Austin of Vermont, a member of the Hearst Senatorial Unofficial Commission on Palestine, giving his report on the crisis in the Holy Land.

Senator Austin is a member of the Senate judiciary committee and is a constitutional lawyer of distinction. While in Palestine he made a special study of the mandate and the obligations of the United States in connection with the administration.

By WARREN R. AUSTIN
U. S. Senator from Vermont

"We want the Arab population of Palestine to be contented. We want the goodwill of the Arabs. At the birth of Christ the population of the country was 4,000,000, sustained by the standards of production of that time. There is room for the Jew in Palestine. There is no other place for him to go."

The speaker was Martin Chertok, the official head of the Jewish Agency in Palestine. This body is recognized under the mandate as a governmental instrument for the establishment of the Jewish National Home. In the course of his conference with the leaders of the Jewish Agency, Mr. Chertok presented to us an official account of the situation in the Jewish Agency.

The Arab case divides itself into economic and political phases," began Mr. Chertok, after extending to our commission an official welcome in the name of the Jewish Agency.

Have No Case

"On the economic side, the Arabs have no case. The Jewish development of Palestine has made the Arabs richer. The huge funds of capital poured into the country by the Jews since the World War have filtered through and have diffused among the entire population.

"At every step, the Jew had to pay the Arab. When the Jewish immigrant arrived, he had to pay the Arab. When he looked for shelter, he paid rent to an Arab. When he purchased food, he paid an Arab for it.

"As the Jews developed their own production, they also developed markets for exports to neighboring Arab and other foreign countries. At the same time, there has been a rise in the imports to Palestine. This development has employment to students and enormously increased the revenue of the government.

"The government mainly serves the Arab population. The Jew is able to take care of himself. The Jews are exploiting the Arabs, as it is claimed, why is there no exodus of Arabs from Palestine? Why do the Arabs in the neighboring countries migrate to Palestine? Since the war, the Arab population has increased over 20 per cent in this country, and the increase has been greatest in the location of Jewish settlements.

"On the political side, the majority of the Arabs might say that they prefer to live out a poor living so long as the country remained Arab and not Jewish.

"This point of view, the consequence of the world cannot accept. There is no other country open to the Jews of Germany, Russia, Poland. The Jews do not wish to establish themselves here at the expense of the Arabs. We have proven that our coming has improved the condition of all.

"Moreover, the Arabs have received as a result of the war independence in several countries. They have Iran, Mesopotamia, they have the Hejaz, they have Trans-Jordan, they have Egypt, and they have a semi-independent status under the French mandate in Syria.

"The 2,000,000 Arabs have a habitable area 40 times as large as that of Palestine. They have all the room for development and wealth. Are not the Jews entitled to a corner of their own?

When the Jews were promised by the British Government a national home in Palestine, it included both sides of the Jordan. The Jordan was never a boundary. Subsequently, the British took over Trans-Jordan and made it Arab. The Jews are denied the right to settle there. Yet it is 40 per cent larger than Palestine and has only 25 per cent of the population of Palestine."

When asked what was the effect of the Jewish Agency with regard to the Arab demand for a change of Jewish immigration, Mr. Chertok declared:

"Immigration must continue to 1938, the number of Jewish immigrants, and yet there was a shortage of labor. In 1935, it absorbed 47,000 Jewish immigrants, and we still have a shortage of labor. So the Jewish Agency can be economically self-sufficient without injury to the Arabs, it must continue."

"If a sudden change should occur in the economic condition of the country, we are prepared to come to an agreement with the Arabs. We are prepared to undertake not to buy land which would be in the future, share Arabs, or to exchange land with Arab holders."

It was suggested to Mr. Chertok that the Arabs claimed to fear the Jews becoming a majority in Palestine, to which he replied:

"If an agreement is reached, a majority would be impossible. The Jews of the world are pressing to enter the country. If we entered into such an agreement, what would prevent the opening of the balance?"

Ban on Jews

"Look at Trans-Jordan. In the law, it does not exclude Jews. But in reality, Jews are not allowed there. Yet Trans-Jordan was promised to both Jews and Arabs, and the British government decided to reserve it for Arabs only."

"The present controversy on immigration would be settled if Trans-Jordan were to be opened to our people. One hundred thousand Jews would gladly move there from this side of the Jordan. They would break ground and make room for more settlers."

"Politically, we Jews feel that a part of our body has been separated from us by cutting off Trans-Jordan from Palestine."

But behind the Arab claims is the dream to abrogate the mandate and to build an independent Arab empire.

"In such an event, the alleged fear of the Jewish majority is meaningless. Even if we did bring in 1,000,000 Jews into Palestine, we would still remain a minority among the 2,000,000 Arabs in their proposed confederation or kingdom."

Battle to 'Clean' Air

Red Radio Talks Again Attacked

Two more protests were filed today with the Federal Communications Commission concerning the action which forces radio stations carrying any political talks to permit Earl Browder, Communist candidate for President, to air his views.

Ralph W. Hubbard, director of the Division on the Suppression of Life, and former National Commander of the Legion of Valor, said:

"The very word 'Communist' is repulsive to me. Communists certainly have no place in our form of government and the spread of their propaganda should be curbed rather than encouraged."

"In protesting to Washington, we have pointed out that the young men and women joined the Young Communist League in New York city alone, after listening to Browder last Friday. Browder reported to the Communist International in Moscow that there were over 30,000 Reds here now, compared with only 10,000 in 1936.

"He further stated that today 40 per cent of the members of the Communist Party are American-born, whereas the percentage was only 10 per cent in 1936. This proves that a definite advance has been made."

Joseph Miller, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, said:

"We are definitely against the use of radio channels for the Communist party. We shall take up the subject of a protest at our next meeting. Our new national commander-in-chief, Bernard W. Roemer, stated in his first message. We shall continue the development of our Americanism campaign in a way that will contribute to the preservation of American ideals. We condemn all communistic activities throughout the country."

"The Federal Communications Commission should not allow Browder to speak on the air, since he claimed unfair treatment under the Constitution."

Los Angeles

(Special to American Newspapers, Inc.)

Los Angeles, Oct. 16.—Declaring that Communists and other radicals have no place on American-controlled radio stations, Leslie F. Olson, national commander of the United States Veterans of the Republic, one of the oldest and most powerful of veterans' organizations, today demanded that the federal radio commission take immediate action to halt allotment of time to radicals.

New York

(Special to American Newspapers, Inc.)

New York, Oct. 16.—Earl Browder, Communist candidate for the presidency, will not be permitted to speak at Brooklyn College, the faculty committee on student affairs had today decided.

The College Social Science Club had previously arranged to have Browder speak at one of their meetings.

Detroit

(Special to American Newspapers, Inc.)

Detroit, Oct. 16.—Several Detroit war veterans organizations have joined the National Civil Americanism in protesting to the federal communications commission against the ruling of that body that Communists must be permitted the use of broadcasting stations.

Syracuse

(Special to American Newspapers, Inc.)

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 16.—A further appeal to the federal communications commission, not to continue to compel broadcasting stations to allow Communists to send anti-American propaganda over the air has been sent from this community by Dan J. Kelly, commander, Onondaga County American Legion.

San Francisco

(Special to American Newspapers, Inc.)

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Protests against the permitted use of radio for broadcasting by Communists and other radicals were wired to the federal communications commission at Washington, D. C. today.

The telegrams were dispatched by John E. Pond, retired commander of the United States navy, and president of the Alameda County Chapter, California Society, Sons of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Walter Knox, national vice-chairman of the radio committee, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Knox is also district chairman of the radio committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, State of California.

Dead Ringer

Hollywood, Oct. 16 (AP).—The customer looked at the girl behind the counter and said, "Sister, you ought to be in pictures. You're a dead ringer for that little Whitney girl."

The girl was Eleanor Whitney, getting practical experience for a candy store waitress job.

MISSING WONS ADDS MYSTERY TO SLAYING

(This is the fourth in a series of articles discussing upon the mystery of the disappearance of John A. Lyons.)

In John A. Lyons' case, as in the case of the missing woman, the mystery is added to the slaying.

As mysteriously as Grace Aquilino, on the evening of September 15, vanished from her Weymouth home, her favored sister dropped from sight.

And, according to Oscar V. Harford, he left Lyons and the widow together at 8:30 that evening. No body is known to have seen either alive since.

There are several major possibilities under investigation in connection with Lyons' disappearance.

WHERE IS HE?

There was no reason in the world why Lyons, if he wished, should not have moved himself out of Weymouth to take him on a trip. In the second place, he never went anywhere without telling one or another of his sisters where he was.

In the first place, he had no business to take him on a trip. In the second place, he never went anywhere without telling one or another of his sisters where he was.

In the third place, he had no business to take him on a trip. In the second place, he never went anywhere without telling one or another of his sisters where he was.

He left his truck lodged in every intention of returning.

His sister, who was behind him, took only the clothes on his back and the jewelry which he was wearing. He should wear the topcoat and made no mention of the other things he had.

He would indicate he planned when a short stay away from home.

DOROTHY TRIES TAXI-DANCING IN MANILA

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service, Boston
Evening American and New York
Journal Correspondent

Manila, P. I., Oct. 16 (INS)—Our first day in Manila found me being swung out in a new realm of a taxi-dancer.

The enforced leisure here, while Len Kieran and I wait for the China Clipper to pick us up for the trans-Pacific trip, has proved profitable already. I have learned two new occupations that I can follow in case I ever decide to give up the tumultuous churning of life.

First, when we made our broadcast in America, I was told that I was a first-rate radio announcer, and last night at the banquet given in our honor by Alexander Koon, local newspaper publisher, I learned the technique of the home-dance girl.

After the dinner we went to Santa Ana, the biggest dance floor in the world. I was inspired by the local dance-music girls, who got in a ring around the floor, to change the men in our party a dime a dance.

FINDS DANCING EASY JOB

In no time at all I made $2.00 and found it much easier work than covering the New York police courts.

The dinner party was a great success—it was the first really civilized meal we've encountered since the trip began. Caviar, lobster and champagne, looked swifly good after some of the doubtful food we consumed not an hour ago in India.

But all through the dinner I was on tenterhooks—I can't get used to taking it easy in this island town, while our rival, H. R. Ekins, is almost 4000 miles ahead of us across the Pacific.

There's nothing we can do about it—after dancing half a half-way around the world, Len Kieran and I have in all been dipping our toes in the edge of the Pacific, waiting for the pleasure of the typhoon that got between us and the China Clipper.

CLIPPER STILL AT GERM

We had expected to reach ahead the clipper as soon as we arrived here on the President. But when Hongkong. Instead we found the plane had turned back to Guam in the face of the typhoon. It's still waiting at Guam for weather to clear before it hops to Manila and turns around for the return trip.

Ekins, who caught the Hawaiian Clipper here, is at Midway Island tonight—only two jumps away from California.

I tried to forget my worries last night as I danced in the flower-filled setting of the beautiful oval-shaped pavilion at the Manila Hotel.

The orchestra was good, and it played the latest American tunes. After a few dances at the hotel we went on to Santa Ana and my dance-dance debut.

"HAYS-OUT" STORY

Kieran and I visited the office of the Manila Tribune, one of Manila's papers. I can't miss reading the gleam in a city editor's eye. I wasn't in that office more than five minutes before I was sitting at a typewriter, battling out a story of my impressions of Manila. It appeared on page one today.

We are scheduled to see a movie preview today. All in all, our stay in Manila, while grounded by the elements, has been extremely with things.

According to the latest word from Pan American Airways, the China Clipper may bring Kieran and me tomorrow while it's still Friday in New York and we may be on our way across the Pacific before very long.

If it's very much longer, I think I'll explode!

Ekins at Midway, Bound for Honolulu

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Far to the east and still gaining, H. R. Ekins, representing the New York World-Telegram and Scripps Howard newspapers, was ready at noon, New York time, today to take off from Midway Island in the Pacific, bound for Honolulu in his plane with two other reporters around the world.

Today's leg in the Hawaii clipper is the Pan American air line with only about 1200 miles, take 16 hours of flying, and will put him some 4000 miles ahead of his rivals.

—VITZ AMERICAN.

54 on Japanese Freighter Saved

Manila, Oct. 16 (INS)—Fifty officers and crew of the Japanese freighter Moku Maru were rescued when the vessel sank last night 10 miles off Pagan. Thirty Limping gear, according to a radio message received today from the Norwegian tanker Comore, etc.

The Myth About Men & Machines!

LOOK at your shoes. They are neat, comfortable... and not too costly. They were made by machine. They give service to you... and employment to scores of people who made and brought them to you. These include the salesman, the owner of the shoe store, the truckman who delivered them, all the men who, step by step, made them. You can figure out yourself how long is that list of people.

More shoes for more people... and at lower prices. Instead of one pair a day, the machine turns out dozens... and because the cost is lower, more people can buy.

Facts Don't Fool

Some people say that the machine causes unemployment. That it does the work that men should be doing. But what is the truth about you and the machine?

Facts don't fool. So let's talk facts:

One—Machines increase the number of jobs

Two—Machines increase real wages... that is, they make it possible for the average man to buy more things and better things for his salary or his time.

Three—Machines shorten working hours, provide more leisure.

Four—Machines bring more things to more people... providing the comforts, conveniences and luxuries that make up our American standard of living.

These are the facts. Now let's prove them:

Machines Increase the Number of Jobs

From 1870 to 1930, the period of the greatest machine development, the population of the United States increased 218 per cent. But jobs increased 291 per cent. In recent years 18 new industries have given jobs to 10,000,000 people. You can name them yourself: automobiles, electrical products, rubber tires, gasoline, radios and many others.

Ten years from now someone you know may make a fortune from a machine that today is in the back of his head. It will become a reality. Be patented. Then a machine will make it. And you and I will either want it or get a job making it. A new industry will arise from a machine.

Machines Increase Real Wages

Real wages have increased more than 60 per cent in the past 60 years—the machine age. That is, the average worker can buy more than half again as much as he could in 1870.

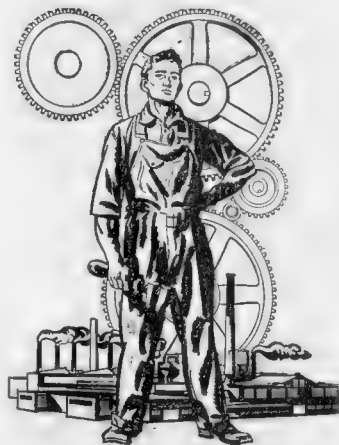

I took at automobile tires for example. Back in 1910 the average tire cost $25. It did well to last 2,500 miles. But new machines brought the average tire cost down to $12. And it will run 25,000 or more miles.

In the meanwhile, average wages of industrial workers were increasing. In 1910, an hour's labor would buy 23 miles of tire travel. But today, an hour's labor will buy 1,220 miles of tire travel—about forty times as much as in 1910.

Machines Shorten Working Hours... Raise the Standard of Living

The period of the greatest machine development has seen a decrease in the hours of work in manufacturing from an average of 50 per week in 1890 to 48 or under now.

Machines have brought within reach of everybody a variety of comforts, conveniences and luxuries undreamed of 50 years ago. Automobiles, electric lights, telephones, radios and a hundred other things we could not do without.

But what happens to an old industry when one of these new industries comes in? Let's look at the facts again. Take the horse and buggy business. 1900 was the top year for jobs in it. Just about a million people were working as drivers, stable hands, wagon makers, and so on.

Compare those million jobs with the three million new jobs made by the automobile. Three times as many new jobs as the old ones.

And let's look at some other "job-eater-upper." The typewriter and the adding machine. Here are two machines that certainly let one office worker do the work of at least two or three working by hand.

In 1860 with no office machines, it took 4,369 clerks, bookkeepers, and so on for every million of population. Now bring on the machines. Fewer jobs? Nothing of the sort. By 1930 office workers had increased to 49,805 per million population... just 11 times as many as before they started doing their work by machine.

Always Multiply Wealth

What does all this prove?

One thing. MACHINES MAKE JOBS!

There is a throttled demand in America today for nearly $19,000,000,000 worth of new machinery—enough to keep four million men steadily at work for two years.

The machine age in America has taught us one simple economic rule. Real wealth comes from producing more goods so more people can have a bigger share. That is the American formula—always multiply wealth. That formula calls for the installation of new machines to develop new products... new machines to stimulate production... new machines to make new jobs.

In every advance in machinery, in every new machine, you gain greater freedom, greater ease... a better living. You rise to the heights with the machine.

If you are interested in this subject, learn more about it. A free copy of a comprehensive booklet "Men & Machines" now being prepared, will be sent you. Write to National Association of Manufacturers, Room 2036, 11 West 42nd Street, New York City.

First Used 90 Years Ago Here

Early yesterday today a young doctor walked into the large amphitheater of Massachusetts General Hospital wearing a white coat and a stethoscope around his neck.

"Your patient is ready," he said to the nurse standing by his side.

Honor Doctor

He had undergone operations in his own hospital, and he was the first to use ether here.

Bette Davis' 'Slave' Decision Delayed By London Judge

London, Oct. 15 (AP)—Bette Davis' decision to appear in the picture "Slave of the East" has been delayed by a London judge.

Here's What They Think
Is 'Worst of Sins'

What People
Do Their Worst Sins!

15 Minutes Away

It is a strange thing to say, but I think I am married, and I am married to a woman who is a very good person.

Ann Sheridan, who, with her new husband, is making a real home in the Hills of Hollywood. She was interviewed by Peggy Doyle, Boston Evening American reporter, in Hollywood.

"I don't think I ever could be a girl who can control her weight with ether," she said.

"My beauty treatment," she said, "is to keep the skin from getting too soft and silky, and I suppose that means we really do use a lot of cream or oil."

"I don't diet," she said. "I eat what I want, and I eat it when I want it. I don't think I ever could be a girl who can control her weight with ether."

No Dieting

Seven Sets of Twins in East Boston School Salute Their Flag

Phoning all calls to the Boston Evening American are these seven sets of twins, pupils of the Paul Jones School in East Boston. Even the master's assistant, Miss Mary Vaughan, can hardly tell them apart. Left to right, Mary and Patricia Callahan, 1; Paul and Patsy Palazzola, 1; Leo and Paul Nic-

Challen, 6; Ottavio and Orlando Canalsupa, 7; John and Roger Hunter, 7; Arthur and Andrew Kinney, 7; Norma and Margaret Macgregor, 7; (shown holding flag).

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Virtually all lines of business this week widened the commanding lead over the position registered a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of trade.

"Despite adverse weather conditions, some actions," the review said, "the rise in retail sales was lengthened, aided by the start of buying at Columbus Day promotional events."

“Wholesale activity resumed its previous pace, as the flow of reorders broadened.

Joined by the forceful re-entry of the automotive division, industrial momentum gathered more speed, but many manufacturers of durable goods were prevented by equipment limits from expanding their positions.

Estimation

Then a good estimate of ρ_{true} may be the average of the estimates as a white wine from 0 to 22 per cent alcohol, i.e. $\rho_{\text{true}} = 1.15 \times 10^{-3}$ g cm⁻³. Percentage error = $\frac{1.15 \times 10^{-3} - 1.10 \times 10^{-3}}{1.15 \times 10^{-3}} \times 100 = 4.35\%$.

"Columbus Day promotions brought to many retailers the heaviest volume of sales for any similar event in seven years," the report said.

"Winter clothing continued to move slowly, because of the mild weather, but children's apparel and boys' overalls sold well."

Traffic

At the intersection of the main highway and the side road, the traffic was very heavy. The cars were moving slowly, and the drivers were very nervous. The police were on hand to keep the traffic moving, but it was a very difficult task. The cars were packed closely together, and the drivers were trying to find a way out of the jam. The police were shouting and waving their hands, but the cars were not moving. The traffic was a real mess, and it was a very frustrating experience for everyone involved.
